When it comes to purchasing a new television, people have to consider many factors. What are the most important factors for buying a TV? Find an answer to this question in the following section of this article.

Screen Size

Screen size is the most significant part of a television. If the screen size is too small, it will not be suitable for your living room. When the screen size is too large, it does not bring viewing comfort to your living room. For a medium living room, a 43 inch 4k android TV is a perfect addition.

The selection of the screen size should depend on the size of the living room. For small rooms, you need a small TV. Similarly, you need a larger television for the large living rooms.

Resolution

For buying a TV, you should not ignore the resolution. An essential part of a TV is the resolution. Today, ultra-HD TVs are in high demand. Such television screens come with 4K resolution. If you want better than 4K resolution, you can choose an 8K TV. However, the availability of 8K TV is not high these days.

Only a few TV brands have introduced 8K televisions for the buyers. Moreover, most content-makers use 4K resolution these days. So, you will find limited content suitable with your 8K screen.

Connectivity

Modern TV users want internet and Bluetooth connectivity to their TVs. Nevertheless, people like to attach external drives to the TV to access multimedia files. Hence, connectivity options should be checked before buying a TV.

If you are going to purchase a smart TV, Bluetooth and Wi-Fi support will come by default. There must be one or two USB ports. There should be an HDMI port. For 4K TVs, you shall get HDMI 2.0 support. 8K TV is compatible with HDMI 2.1.
