

Australia Player David Warner Storms Social Media, Reaches BBL Match In Helicopter

The batsman of Australia cricket team David Warner made a Hollywood-style entry in a helicopter ahead of Sydney Thunder's Big Bash League match against Sydney Sixers at the Sydney Cricket Ground. The reason for Australia batter's unique entry is that he attended his brother's wedding in Hunter Valley and flew directly for the match. Warner recently called time on his Test and ODI career. The 37-year-old batter played his last Test match against Pakistan, where he scored 57 runs and helped Australia claim 3-0 clean sweep in the series. In his marvelous 13-year-long career, Warner played 112 Tests and 161 ODIs and broke numerous records.

Apart from his heroics with the bat, Warner is widely popular for entertaining acts on the field. Praising Warner's determination towards the sport, his teammate Gurinder Sandhu stated that the entire team loves playing cricket with him.

Sandhu said, "He's going to a lot of effort to come and play for us. We love having him here. Last year he was awesome for us, maybe didn't score as many runs as he would have liked but around the group and passing on knowledge was awesome to have him around. He's one of the better team men. All the fans get to enjoy him playing cricket."

Australia and Sixers pacer Sean Abbott called Warner's entry "Hollywood" style and stated that he is looking forward to play against him
