

10 Happy Birthday Images & Quotes for Everyone in Your Life

Did you know that you can also send someone happy birthday images and quotes to wish them a happy birthday? Check out these ten happy birthday images and quotes.

Rather than sending the usual kinds of birthday gifts all the time, this time around, try using images and quotes to wish someone a happy birthday. Pictures are worth a thousand words, they say. Let images speak loud and clear where words can't. The good thing is that you can get plenty of happy birthday images and quotes online. To cut to the chase, here are ten unique birthday images and quotes.

“On this very day, someone special was born. The birds of the air rejoiced because you came to this world to bring lots of joy. Happy birthday little king!”

“God knew that the world would be a boring place without you. That is why He thought that on this very day 20 years ago, you should come to bring joy and happiness. Happy birthday little princess!”

“As you mark your thirty years on this earth, remember that we all love you and wish you more years ahead of you. May you grow to be toothless!”

When you want to send happy birthday images, make it spicy and fun by including unique quotes from you or even prominent persons. Sending the usual gifts day every year to wish someone a happy birthday is not so interesting. Instead of sending flowers that wither and die within a few days, why not send some of these awesome birthday images? Some of the images that you can send your loved ones on their birthday include colorful balloon pictures, photos of the recipient on the previous birthdays, a colorful image of a birthday cake, and many more.

Other great quotes include:

“As roses are red and violets are blue, you are always there to me when I am feeling blue. As you celebrate your 40th birthday, know that we all love and care for you. Happy birthday honey, and may you live a thousand and one years!”

“It seems like just the other day, I was holding you in my arms. Now you are old enough to drive me to work! As you celebrate your 18th birthday, know that you are loved. Happy birthday my young prince.”

Birthday images also come in various sizes; therefore, know what kind of relationship you have first with the recipient before choosing to send one. We have romantic birthday images for those couples, cute happy birthday images for toddlers, and funny happy birthday images for long time friends. No matter what you choose, don't forget to spice things up by adding these birthday quotes:

“Although we are not together as you celebrate your 25th birthday, my best friend, know that my heart is with you, and may you live with your great-grandchildren. Happy birthday buddy!”

“You are lucky this year I won't be able to pour a dozen buckets of water on you. Whatever you are planning to do on your birthday, remember to have a blast. Happy birthday, big man!”

Conclusion

You don't need to wish someone a happy birthday using the same kinds of gifts every year. You can try something new this year, like sending these unique and special happy birthday images and quotes.