

Games on Avalanche Blockchain

Blockchain is the buzzword today, whenever and wherever you hear about cryptocurrencies of NFTs. For the unversed, you will come across a variety of cryptocurrencies and non-fungible tokens in the market today. Much of the NFT market relies on Ethereum and Solana. They are the best foundation for NFT-based crypto games. However, you must have heard about another new entrant in the market, and it is none other than Avalanche blockchain. In the last few months, Avalanche has taken over the domain of NFT games.

What is Avalanche Blockchain?

It is one of the recent blockchains to have totally taken over Ethereum. It is thriving well in the DeFi ecosystem. You may already know that Ethereum is the biggest smart-contract-operated decentralized network for financial transactions today. However, there seem to be a few problems with Ethereum. It is supposedly too slow, and the fees are also quite high. So, most users call it the blockchain for the banking and financial services sector.

Now, here enters Avalanche which claims to solve the above problems. It can process 4,500 TPS. The native token is AVAX, which is considered the 10th largest in terms of the crypto market share at present. It has positively affected the gaming sector, as well. Many companies and developers are launching their own games on Avalanche.

Top Three Gaming DApps Blockchain

Domi Online is the first game that you should know about. It is a play-to-earn game. You can get hold of the game's native token, which allows you to earn for completing various quests and challenges in the game itself. You can also tokenize the in-game assets that you will earn in the process. The official alpha release of the game is coming out by the end of 2022. It is one of the most talked-about gaming dApps today.

Crabada is another well-established gaming dApp on Avalanche. Moreover, it attracts thousands of players every month. The game has more than 10,000 active wallets. It is a fun-style game that is not action-based. You can earn through activities such as mining, looting, battling, and breeding. It is a time-killing game, which you can play anywhere. You can watch exciting battles unfolding in front of your very own eyes.

Ascenders is the third kid on this block, which is surely making a lot of news. It is a sci-fi RPG open-world game. Moreover, it is based on a decentralized network and is player-driven. You, as players, can explore new caves and dungeons with ease through this game. Over the next few weeks, you will see more news about the gaming dApp percolating from the makers. Watch out for some exclusive content promotions, and game-related information. It is one of the top games on Avalanche Blockchain at present. You can even have adventures on your own digital properties. Read More...

Source Link: <https://bit.ly/3acSU9x>