

Clouded Leopard in India

The clouded leopard is a felid species native to the forests of Southeast Asia, including parts of India. Despite being one of the most enigmatic and charismatic species of the cat family, clouded leopards remain relatively unknown due to their secretive nature and elusive habits. For more, visit the link below:

#wildlife #fauna #animals #wildlifeconservation #forest