How to Create Twitch account?

Creating a Twitch account is quite simple. First, go to the website or app and choose the “Register” option. At this point, you need to create a username and password, enter your email address and your date of birth. Users can also use their Facebook account to streamline the process.

Those who want to create content must select the “Content Producer” option, which is in the menu at the top right. Therefore, it is important to have adequate equipment, such as a camera and headset.

For live broadcasts, which attract the largest audience, it is feasible to use specific software that can be seen in the “Broadcast Tools” of the control panel. After downloading and installing the necessary applications, the user can start streaming through the platform.
