Embrace Contrast

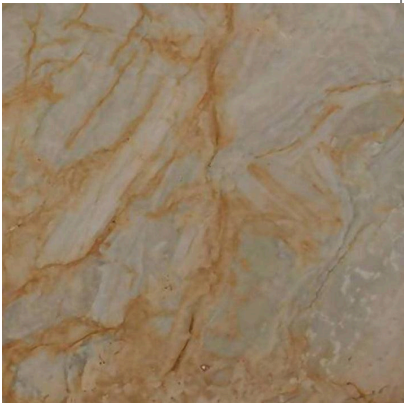

Shaker kitchens appear especially striking when several textures and materials are combined. In a traditional setting, natural oak worktops and aged brass handles give the space a rustic, "perfectly imperfect" vibe. However, bolder statements like white quartz surfaces and sleek, noticeable appliances immediately give the space a more modern touch. Another choice is to add an island in a contrasting colour to make a statement in larger rooms. This provides a chic focal point and adds structure. Make the wooden ceiling beams the centre of attention in your kitchen's design. To incorporate the natural aspects of the design, use coordinating timber tables, seats, or bar stools. Even natural materials, like stone-effect tiles, can be used for your flooring.

Increase Storage

Modern kitchens require clever storage solutions, and we have a number of suggestions to keep your area tidy and organised. All the storage space is needed for a kitchen. Your Shaker design kitchen will look great with a variety of colours, whether your kitchen colour plan is light and airy or strong and dramatic.

Shaker Cabinets

The most defining element of the entire style is likely the shaker cabinets. The design is basic with no decoration and uses sharp, clean lines. A flat wood panel and four wide sections that frame the panel make up these cabinets. We advise avoiding something too assertive or bold if you like something closer to the classic Shaker design. To match your Shaker cabinets, choose smaller, straightforward cabinet pulls.

Shaker-Inspired Cabinet Hardware

Shaker cabinet pulls and door handles were fashioned of the same material as the cabinets because the Shakers were simple. We advise avoiding anything that is really assertive or bold if you prefer something that is more convenient to the original Shaker aesthetic. For your Shaker cabinets, choose smaller, more straightforward cabinet pulls.

However, you can feel that the conventional pulls are insufficient if you're fusing Shaker kitchen concepts with modernised ones. In that situation, choosing slick matte black, gold, or silver handles and pulls is always an option.
