Product Description:

The price farmers receive directly from processors for milk produced on their farm is referred to as the farmgate milk price. The government has little legal influence over the prices given to farmers by milk processing businesses in various countries. Farmgate milk prices in Australia, for example, are decided by the milkfat and protein composition of the farm milk, with separate values for each component. Furthermore, processor pricing may change, and milk rivalry among processors influences farmgate milk prices from season to season.

Regions Covered to Evaluate Farmgate Milk Price Trend:

- North America
- South America
- Europe
- The Asia Pacific
- The Middle East
- Africa

Industrial Uses Impacting Farmgate Milk Price Trend:

Fonterra has computed a Farmgate Milk Price since its inception in 2001, allowing total returns to be divided between payments for milk and returns on money invested by Fonterra farmer shareholders and unit holders in the Fonterra Shareholders' Fund. Because Fonterra buys such a huge share of New Zealand's total milk, there is no market price for milk that is independent of Fonterra's price.

Key Market Players:

- CLAL S.R.L.

- Dairy Australia Corporation
- Fonterra Co-operative Group Limited
- Agriculture and Horticulture Development Board
- Australian Department of Agriculture, Water, and the Environment

News and Events:

The Irish Farmers Association (IFA) has stated that farmers are entitled to a substantial increase in the farmgate milk price in April. This is more than justified based on the returns that premium processors are now receiving for dairy products, and it's critical to assist dairy farmers in meeting the increasing cost of inputs at the farm level on 11 May 2022.
