

Newborn baby's clothes in addition to cotton, 8 details to pay attention to, the baby wear comfortable

The newborn baby is like a boneless beauty, holding up is not easy, let alone wearing clothes. Baby is about to be born, the family will be prepared in advance to the baby's newborn clothes, and for many people know that the clothes prepared for the 嬰兒服裝 baby are needed "cotton", in fact, is that in addition to the material design requirements, there are many small details of the problem is also the need for parents-to-be attention.

According to gb18401-2010, textiles are divided into three categories, of which only one category of products can be worn by infants and toddlers.

There are eight things you need 尿布片 to pay attention to when preparing your new baby's intimate apparel

Newborn clothes are important for two things: safety and comfort. That means that your darling is wearing safe and comfortable clothes that won't hurt your darling and will keep him warm.

Babies' clothes come in a variety of styles. The right clothes are easy for parents to put on and take off their babies and will also make them feel comfortable. Typically, most young parents have a onesie or fartlek for their child.

Slouchy onesie

Slant lapel jumpsuit (monk suit): suitable for 0-3 months Chinese babies, usually by a combination of buttons and cords, in the baby's side can be used in the cord tie type.

The jumpsuit without pant legs.

Slouchy fart wrap

The lazy mother's own two children wore almost both of these clothes. The eldest was born in the spring and wore a fart wrap in the summer, and the younger sister, born in the winter, mainly wore a thick fart wrap bottom and then added a onesie on the outside because the moon would change diapers many times and it was convenient to wear a fart wrap and you could just open the fart part to change diapers.

Both will continue to protect your baby's tummy from the cold during diaper changes and will reduce the friction between your newborn's belly button and clothes.

Whether you choose these two styles of clothing or not, you need to pay attention to the following eight details.

1, the rope belt: and clothing to connect firmly, the length of the choice is appropriate.

Newborn baby's clothes usually have 1-2 rope straps inside and 2-3 straps outside. The purpose is to repair the clothes. However, the rope should not be too long, and after tying it into a knot, the rope should not be long enough to reach the child's neck, mouth, or around the child's arm.

The "Technical Code of Safety for Infant and Toddler Textiles" has clear provisions for the rope: when pulling the rope, the strap is too long (over the edge of the garment), the end of the rope is easily decorated to form a loose knot, and the rope loop is not qualified! Babies and children under seven years old, in addition to the waist belt, not in the back to pull the long or tight rope.

Long rope will be easy to wrap the baby's fingers, wrists, etc., easy to restrain the baby, if not found in time, will lead to poor blood circulation.

So when choosing newborn clothes, the less the number of ropes the better, the shorter the better, the sturdier the better.

2, light-colored clothes

Darker and more colorful clothes will have students more dyes and additives, prone to color loss, falling pigments will cause serious allergies, discomfort, pollution and other hazards to the skin problems of Chinese babies; and for newborns like to nibble and lick the cuff parts of the clothes, so when we choose their clothes, try to can choose light-colored clothes.

Dark-colored clothes stains and other chemicals than light clothes contain formaldehyde; especially white clothes often add fluorescent agents, the real natural white is soft, and even some yellow.

Light-colored clothes in addition to fabric safety, but also to facilitate parents to find out in a timely manner whether the clothes are dirty need to be changed, and light-colored clothes can give a comfortable feeling, to avoid stimulating the emotions of the postpartum mother.

3, clothing decoration

The newborn can not yet move freely, but he can lick and chew his shirt cuffs. For example, my sister started licking what she could reach with her mouth after she was born.

If there are many decorations on the clothes, and these small parts are not firmly attached to the clothes, they can easily fall off and enter the baby by mistake. The process of putting on and taking off is also easy to scratch the baby's delicate skin.

4. threads: clothing workmanship should be more detailed, try to own without a thread, shedding threads are prone to occur entangled baby fingers, or swallowed by the baby. Threads should be how to deal with the environment clean, clothes as well as edge system smooth, sewing surface on the outside of the clothes (adults for clothes sewing surface in the inside, so do not say that Chinese newborn baby's clothes wear reversed yo!)

5. buttons: buttons as far as possible is plastic, metal buttons in winter will irritate the baby's skin. In addition to the button needs to be firmly attached to the clothing, but also needs to be easy to use, not to unbutton or unravel. If the button is not easy to open or button up, when the child starts crying, why can't you open the clothes, you say how can it not be annoying?

6. label: newborn baby clothes on the label is on the outside of the clothes, so that the baby wears the side will be smoother, less likely to be labeled scratches, or irritate the skin uncomfortable.

Collar: Baby's collar is usually buttoned down, but if it is too big, it will leak and make baby shiver.

8. Preparation quantity: Newborns grow fast, there is no need to buy too many too expensive newborn clothes.

It is generally believed that newborns are born with a length of 50cm, to the baby for the preparation of 52 and 59 yards of clothing, 52 yards of clothing we need 2-3 pieces, 59 yards of clothing at least 2 pieces. If it is a winter students can learn to prepare two more pieces, so that the enterprise even if not because of Chinese babies spit up dirty, wash also in time to dry. Each child needs are different. For example, my oldest just started barely spit up, so three pieces of clothing is enough. And sister is either spit up and dirty, or wet, 3 pieces are not enough to change.

If you find that you don't have enough clothes you will have to do a lot of laundry.

In short, it is important that intimate apparel for your newborn is safe, warm, and easy to put on and take off. As for what style to choose, it depends on the habits of the caregiver.

In addition, six-month-old babies do not need to be deliberately divided into male and female, so we clothes pink or a blue are not relevant. Whether it is old clothes brought from other education children, or the student's own newly purchased clothes, the company needs to go through data washing and sun exposure.

When choosing a newborn fitting clothes, the prerequisite is information security management first, comfort second, easy to put on and take off. Every time we change the baby's diaper, bath or change clothes, make sure to analyze and check the baby's whole body skin condition.
