

What is Thoracolumbar Spine Tumors?

Thoracolumbar spine tumors are generally describe the cancerous spread from other parts of the body, and the spinal column is among the most vulnerable areas for the growth of metastatic tumors. These tumors are common, and a spine tumor specialist in Ahmedabad generally treats them without surgery unless there is a neurologic compromise or resultant spinal ability.

Source: An Overview of Thoracolumbar Spine Tumors