

Cool gift ideas for kids ages 1-5

Regardless of whether it's a birthday, occasion, or on the grounds that, it's not in every case simple finding the best presents for kids ages one to five. Questions like, "What size dress should I get?" or "Will a particular toy suit their age group?" can make looking for children's toys a task. Play is fundamental for every child, but it should also be something matching their age group so that it remains relevant. Kids gift items can be a tricky business, and so we only suggest the best to you!

For 1-year-olds, since they are just beginning out – anything colorful of plus soft toys will be a favorite with them. To get them to start learning, you could also gift customized picture books or nursery picture books, where each story is unique. And if you aren't too sure of toys – check out scrapbooks, colorful posters, room décor which is sure to fascinate the kids and parents alike.

For 2-3-year-olds, your options increase a lot more. Since they have started learning, books make for a great gift – and the parents love it. Matching Games, Simple Puzzles, Bath Toys, and more just help explore their minds. You can also opt for a lot of pretend play toys, and toys that encourage little ones to understand food and use utensils. Basically, anything that fosters creativity can be gifted to 2-3-year-olds. And not to forget, these will keep your babies entertained for hours!

For 4-5-year-olds, your options are endless. The kids can sing songs, tell stories, use crayons, draw and paint and a lot more. Any indoor or outdoor kids' gift items are a super gift. Right from crayons and colors to number games to outdoor games to basic construction kits – these would be perfect for 4-5-year-olds.
