

Abrasive classification for abrasive discs

Brown corundum is suitable for general metal, carbon steel, alloy steel, stainless steel, cast iron, non-ferrous metals and other weld grinding, grinding metal stamping parts burr. mounted flap wheel , Metal surface paint removal, rust removal, etc.

Silicon carbide is specially used for polishing and grinding of non-ferrous metals and non-metals, grinding of copper, aluminum, plastic, wood, bamboo, leather, glass, stone and other surfaces.

The steel paper shutter disc is a disc-shaped coated abrasive made of steel paper as the base material, resin gauze as the cutting layer, and resin adhesive. It is suitable for grinding stainless steel, plastic, wood and other non-metallic surfaces, and for derusting and painting metal surfaces.

like :

What is the difference between angle grinder and louvre blade?

The difference between angle grinder and Shuttle wheel

What is the use of grinding a blade?