

Enjoy Delicious Savors At EggHolic Indian Restaurant In Schaumburg, IL

Are you aware of the fact that Indian food is now one of the favorite options for Americans looking to celebrate weekends? Yes, and it will soon take over the fame of Chinese and Thai cuisines. The Indian restaurant in Schaumburg, IL, we would talk about in this article is the EggHolic. It is one of the fastest-growing brands and has played a major in making subcontinental cuisine popular in the US. You can find its outlets in Chicago and Irving as well.

Ever wondered about what to order at an Indian eatery? Want to know about all the things you can savor at the EggHolic? Well, read on to the last period and beware, your tongue might start drooling! We'll mention all the best-sellers and if you wish to check more out, visit their website.

Indian Food In Schaumburg To Savor With Pals

Indian dishes include various spices and herbs. The chefs at EggHolic use farm-fresh ingredients and authentic “Masala” to cook their delicacies. It ensures that the customers leave with an everlasting smile on their faces and reminisce the moment for a lifetime.

The menu has several sections, but instead of boring with one at a time, we'll go feast style with the content. Here are all the crowd favorites. They make this restaurant worth visiting. Hey, you can also place an online order by the way. The dishes arrive warm and lip-smackingly tasty!

#1 Rassa Bhurji

A dish from the streets of Gujarat. It has loads of spices, mixed up in mashed veggies, and eggs. One can savor this platter with butter toasted pieces of bread or the Indian Roti. It tastes tangy and soothes your core with delightful warmth. The best beverage to accompany this meal is a glass of chilled cola. In addition, it has an aroma that oozes positive vibes.

#2 Cheese Katori

The ideal platter for people who love boiled eggs and cheese. It is an appetizer and most customers order it to warm up their palate for a satisfying meal ahead. The platter has two boiled eggs, topped with a delicious mix of desi spices, and garnished with cheese. It goes best with a cup of hot tea. We recommend ordering it at the start of a chicken-based meal.

#3 Lava Pulav

A platter that not only tastes awesome but looks breathtaking as well. It is a plate of flavored egg rice kept on a yummy omelet with a hole in its center. It consists of specially made gravy and it also has cheese garnishing. A heavy meal for a day you feel a little extra hungry. It goes in well with a glass of chilled cola. You can also accompany it with a glass of Masala Chhaas.

#4 Chicken Tangri

One of the best non-vegetarian dishes at this Indian restaurant in Schaumburg, IL. It is a peace of meaty chicken leg, marinated and cooked in tangy subcontinental flavors. The feast comes with flavored rice, slices of onion, and juicy lemon to squeeze on top. It tastes sublime and may just be the perfect dinner platter for a family dinner in all of America. Accompany it with appetizers such as green boiled fry, masala papad, or as mentioned above, cheese Katori!

#5 Amdavadi Touch

The sandwich that trumps all other sandwiched in the US. It is a vegetarian treat for people who would like to eat on the go. The butter-toasted pieces of bread enclose flavored mashed potatoes, veggies, and slices of fresh cheese. It comes with the famous Indian chutneys (sauces). Dip your sorrows away with this absolutely tasty delight. You can accompany it with the EggHolic special beverages like Mango Mastani, Sweet Lassi, and Rajwadi Lassi.

#6 Egg Chicken Wrap

A roll to roll with at parties. Did I mention that the EggHolic also offers Indian food catering services? Well, the egg chicken wrap is a roll that includes flavored chicken and eggs. The chefs use special house spices to make it. Ever heard of the Kathi Roll from Delhi, India? This treat is very similar to the infamous Kathi Roll. It makes you want more of it with every bite.

#7 Samosa Chaat

The EggHolic offers Indian street food like no other Indian restaurant in America. It has several options and the top pick of them all is Samosa Chaat. It includes tangy chutneys and mashed-up Samosas. What is a Samosa, you ask? It is a crispy fried dumpling filled with spiced potatoes & peas. This savory snack is from the streets of north India, and thus a little fiery.

#8 Dahi Puri

Lastly, a platter that's great for people who wish to try the Indian delicacies but avoid too much masala. It is a plate full of puffed wafers stuffed with chickpeas, potatoes, onions, and yogurt. An option to enjoy at in-house get-togethers. You can make a game out of it. The one who can assemble the dish and finish it up first gets a prize. Accompany the order with Pani-Puri and you take this game to a whole new level! Indian street food to make the celebrations memorable.

Conclusion

To wrap it up, hope you will visit the Indian restaurant in Schaumburg, IL, with your close ones or order online. The EggHolic also offers a franchise option for people who wish to enter into business with them. Furthermore, do check out their catering packages. They can light up any event with energy and happiness. Come join us, pull up a chair, and have a taste. Life is a feast.