

Dental Implants and Prosthetics Market Size, Share, Impressive Industry Growth, Analysis Report 2028

The global dental implants and prosthetics market is anticipated to grow at a CAGR of around 8.8% during the forecast period. Many countries face a significant health burden from oral diseases, which affect people throughout their lives, causing pain, discomfort, disfigurement, and even mortality. The adoption of unhealthy lifestyles such as addiction to tobacco, alcohol and others are leading to tooth decay and this as result will be increasing demand for dental implants and prosthetics. For instance, according to Centres for Disease Control and Prevention, untreated tooth decay affects more than 40% of adults aged 20 to 64 who smoke cigarettes. Approximately 43% of adults aged 65 and up who currently smoke cigarettes have lost all their teeth.

Rising acquisitions, product development, collaborations among the major players in the market also propel the growth of the market. For instance, in October 2020, Cortex Dental Implants Industries, recently announced that their world-renowned dental implant lines and surgical solutions are now more widely available in the US as a result of the rapidly growing network of new, authorised dealer collaborations. Cortex has hired distribution veteran David Howlett to develop and manage sales and marketing operations for Cortex USA as part of this expansion. With this expansion, the cortex will be able to meet the need for practical, and innovative restoration, and rehabilitation solutions.
