

Guide about Shopify Developer and Shopify Development Process

Simply put, a Shopify developer is a computer programmer who creates online stores using the Shopify platform. It's common for them to have a background in frontend programming and a keen eye for pixel-perfect design and user experience. They also provide apps and features for Shopify-based online stores. Complex issues are addressed by integrating with Shopify's backend, frontend, and checkout, utilizing technologies like GraphQL and REST APIs.

Shopify website development

Lastly, a Shopify developer understands how to integrate and work with third-party services and tools, including payment processors, enterprise resource planning systems, and shipping companies.