

Transforming Rural Lives: WOTR - A Leading NGO for Rural Development

The graphic features a dark green background with a white dotted pattern in the top left and orange geometric shapes in the bottom left. The WOTR logo, consisting of the letters 'WOTR' with a globe icon and the tagline 'Rejuvenating Communities & Ecosystems', is in the top right. The text 'Rural Development NGO' is prominently displayed in the center. Below this, contact information is provided: a phone icon with '020 2422 6211', an email icon with 'info@wotr.org', and a globe icon with 'https://wotr.org/'. An inset photograph shows a group of people, including a man and several women, sitting on the ground and looking at a document together.

WOTR is a rural development NGO that has been working in India. Their work focuses on building and empowering rural communities by addressing their unique challenges and facilitating sustainable development. WOTR does this by helping communities to manage their natural resources more sustainably, improve their agricultural productivity, and develop new livelihood opportunities. Contact our rural development NGO today to get involved and contribute to building a brighter future for rural communities.