

Barcelona vs Manchester City: A Pre-Season Showdown in Orlando

LET'S DISKUSS
Ideate • Diskuss • Debate

Instagram Facebook X Pinterest

31 JULY 2024

BARCELONA VS MANCHESTER CITY

In a pre-season friendly on July 30, 2024, FC Barcelona and Manchester City played to a 2-2 draw at the Camping World Stadium in Orlando, Florida, with Barcelona winning 4-1 in the penalty shootout. Barcelona took the lead with goals from Pau Victor and Pablo Torre, while Manchester City equalized through Nico O'Reilly and Jack Grealish. The match was delayed by severe weather for 80 minutes. This game marked City's third loss in their U.S. tour, as they prepare for the upcoming Community Shield against Manchester United on August 10.

www.letsdiskuss.com

In a pre-season friendly held at the Camping World Stadium in Orlando, Florida, FC Barcelona and Manchester City played to a 2-2 draw, with Barcelona winning 4-1 in the penalty shootout. The match faced an 80-minute delay due to severe weather conditions.

Barcelona initially took the lead with a goal from Pau Victor, but City equalized through Nico O'Reilly. Just before halftime, Pablo Torre restored Barcelona's lead. In the second half, Jack Grealish scored for City, leveling the match again. The game ended in a draw after regulation time, leading to penalties where Barcelona emerged victorious, converting four of their five attempts while City managed only one successful kick.

This match marked Manchester City's third outing in their U.S. tour, where they are seeking to build momentum ahead of the upcoming season, including the Community Shield against Manchester United on August 10. The game highlighted the competitive spirit of both teams as they prepare for their respective league campaigns.

Read more: <https://www.letsdiskuss.com/barcelona-vs-manchester-city-a-pre-season-showdown-in-orlando>