Description: Bellingham is a bustling city with people on the go. Our parking lots, driveways and roads get used daily. So in times of concrete services, we are Bellingham's stamped concrete experts helping you to have a smooth driving (or riding) experience. We work with clients from commercial, residential, and public settings. If you have potholes, cracks or gravel on the roadway it's definitely not a smooth experience. Having a smooth road will rid Bellingham of eyesores, and even dangers to your car, motorcycle and bicycle. Trust Bellingham Concrete Services to take care of all your concrete paving needs and help you maintain great concrete for years to come.

Just like anything else, choosing the right concrete contractor is important because it's an investment. You want to be sure you are selecting the right concrete contractor for the job who is knowledgeable and professional who will provide the best concrete work that lasts for years to come. We are the concrete repair contractor in Bellingham that you can trust. We will guide you through your concrete project with the best information and education regarding your concrete options.

First and foremost, the best “secret” to a pavement that lasts a long time is of course having a solid foundation. Before laying any type of pavement, it’s very important that the ground is properly prepared, compacted and ready to receive the pavement. Without this initial ground preparation, the pavement will begin to crack more easily with any changes in moisture levels, the weather and heavy traffic. When you’re choosing a paving company, you want one that will take their time and effort to create a solid foundation for your concrete project. Bellingham Concrete Contractors will make sure your entire project from start to finish will be done correctly. We are the professional Pacific Northwest paving contractors you can trust.

Patio Paving

Are you wanting to build a deck or patio for your Bellingham home or businesses? Concrete patios in Bellingham are a beautiful addition to any outdoor space. The great thing about concrete is that it is aesthetically pleasing, there is minimal maintenance and it holds up for a lifetime in our Pacific Northwest climate. The use of concrete patios for outdoor kitchens and extension of living spaces is growing in popularity. In addition, concrete patios are great for local businesses that have outdoor seating.

Driveway Paving

When you’re welcoming people into your home you want a driveway that has an aesthetic appeal as well as adds to the value of your home. No one wants to come home to a driveway that is an eyesore, with cracks and potholes that hinder the driveway's appearance and makes for an uncomfortably bumpy ride. We help to repair and restore driveways back to their original beauty. If you are looking to repave your driveway then we are the paving contractors for you.

Parking Lot Paving

We are the experts at parking lot paving. If you are looking to have your commercial parking lot repaved, Bellingham Concrete Contractors has the experts to call. We will come out to your property and take a look at the area needing paving. From start to finish we will take care of it all so you don’t have to worry about a thing. We take pride in our work and our work space, ensuring to keep the area that we are working on looking professional.
