Heating engineer

Welcome to Bleeco, we are a small local team of heating engineers based in Horsham, covering East Sussex and West Sussex. We specialise in residential heating systems and have experience dating back to 1996. We offer the installation, maintenance and repair of domestic gas, LPG and oil, covering boilers and heating equipment. We are also fully qualified to work on park homes and caravans. Our team is very passionate about our trade and is 100% committed to all of our customers. We even offer a free service for the 1st year with all new boiler replacement installations that we carry out. Thanks and we look forward to hearing from you. We are at the end of the phone 24/7 for all our new and existing customers.
