

How To Select The Perfect Chilewich Mats For Your Place

When decorating your room, put off the furniture and walls and look to the floor. Sometimes a rug is all you need to light up your space. Area rugs don't get as much attention and care as they should get. Layering rugs of multiple sizes, shapes, colors, and materials add inviting, appealing effects and create warmth and cozy vibes to floors. Chilewich Mats are the perfect start, as they can define an area and be laid underneath and give a trendy look to the house. These rugs also provide an artistic value to a room's design.

There is plenty number of questions to consider before purchasing an area rug. It is often a big concern for some people to create a beautiful space that compliments the area rug perfectly. But not to worry, the best interior designers have got your back. Read this guide below to make sure you purchase the perfect rug for your space.

Start With the Color

To make your space highlight, doing color is a starting point when selecting an area rug and making your space colorful. The color plays an essential role in setting the whole room balanced. Select a color that perfectly complements your existing piece of furniture. Rooms with many bright, vibrant colors and patterns work brilliantly with rugs with neutral tones. It would be best to consider how different rug colors would work with walls, flooring, and ceiling styles.

Rug Styles - Patterned or Plain?

Rooms are no longer restricted to classic or traditional rugs at present, and you will get contemporary and modern mats such as bold florals, simple Jutes, or abstract geometrics. Several rugs are knotted, braided, flat woven, and so much more. There are so many rug styles as lighting and furniture styles, and there is an almost never-ending variety of options.

Pick the Perfect Size

A rug too small for the room is one of the most common decorating mistakes most people make. There must be about a few inches of bare floors between the edge of the rug and the room's wall for most average-sized rooms. Another consideration is to make sure that the carpet should be in the center of the room and the distance between the rug and the wall is identical on all four walls. So, this doesn't apply if you have an open space or want to layer the rugs.

Lifestyle and Maintenance: The Crucial Factors

Your lifestyle has to be a massive factor in what rug you finally select. If you have pets or small kids in your home, a white carpet is probably not the best choice to go for. Moreover, when selecting a rug, be honest about how much effort you are willing to maintain your carpet.

Whenever you are shopping for fine area rugs, make sure that you are buying the highest quality - you are surely getting high-quality rugs at affordable costs, and all you need to do is search for them.
