Choosing between rugs and carpets

Almost all people are getting confused in choosing the carpet and rug for their home. However, there is one difference that differentiates the rugs and carpets that is the size.

Mostly, rugs are come in a small size, whereas carpets have a large size. Carpets are fixed to the floor and placed wall to wall, but nowadays, they are not fixed and can roll up like rugs.

Mats for various rooms:-

Living room mats

Your living room is the place where most often placed the rug in your home, and it is the place where you socialize with your guest and relatives and spend quality time with your family and friends. Therefore, you have to choose the perfect type of carpet for your home that should be durable, sturdy, and good-looking. You can also choose the dark color rug for your living room because they stand up well to hard and tough use. Make sure the wallpaper should match well with your home décor.

Entrance doormats

At the entrance of your home, place the small fiber mat where everyone wipes their shoes and footwear before entering inside. Your carpet should be easy to clean, non-skid, and thick for the entrance. It is perfect for adding jute and natural coir mats.

Dining room mats

The dining room is a place used for meals, so your carpet for the dining room should withstand the food spills and marks of gravy and oil. You can go with the dark color for your dining area because the light color doesn't hide the stain and mark. In addition, mats for the dining room should be made from polypropylene, nylon, and polyester materials. These types of rugs are washed easily and are also inexpensive.

Carpets for the hallway

The hallways are the place that gives the first impression of your home. You can place the rug in the center of the hallway to achieve an attractive and stunning look. Moreover, the hallway consists of more foot traffic, so you have to place the rug long in the tough situation.

Bedroom mats

A bedroom is a place where you come to take a rest, so it should be welcoming and comfortable for all. You can make your bedroom comfortable and attractive with the mats. Place the silk, velvet rugs in your bedroom to add a luxurious touch to your space.
