Automation in the IT Industry

Automation is technology to make the process automatic. It employs in various fields such as IT, manufacturing, defence. IT automation is the process of developing software and systems to replace repetitive activities and minimize manual intervention. Also, IoT solutions and services provide IoT solutions to make a smart system.