

Tokyo Patch Jacket | Studio Maatie

Clothing should express what we stand for. This layer is made from the byproduct of the fashion industry, it is the leftover cuttings of the denim fabric used to make new denim. Designed from this unused denim, the denim carries stories of all the Denims it was a part of before being cut from them. It is a blend of different denim stories, which are combined together in one. Add this to your wardrobe to experience the potential of what we discard.

Every piece is unique as the cuttings used in each piece, are different

- Made out of industrial waste
