Daejeon has been operating mobile tickets since the 2023 season to minimize the time for visitors to enter. Mobile tickets are available through the "Hana One Q" app, and all processes for watching Daejeon Hana Citizen's home games are possible with one "Hana One Q" app.

After installing the "Hana One Q" app, anyone can easily book tickets by simply logging in, and even when watching the game, anyone can easily enter the stadium through the reservation details and entry barcodes stored in the app. In particular, anyone can easily and conveniently use it because they can log in through regular membership without an account at Hana Bank. A variety of events will also be held to mark the home opening game. For home opener visitors, a generous prize will be offered through a lottery, including ▲ the latest gaming laptop ▲ styler ▲ iPad, and any Hana One Q member over the age of 14 can apply through the Hana One Q event page.

In addition, various events and experience booths for soccer fans such as ▲ Photo Zone Event ▲ Face Painting Booth ▲ Food Truck will also be operated at the home opening site. Daejeon has been selling "2024 Season Ticket (One Q Pass)" through the "Hana One Q" app for about a month since January 11. One Q Pass exceeded the total sales volume of the 2023 season four minutes after the sales opened, and the first-come, first-served season ticket purchase event, which allows you to receive "2024 Season Goods," ended in a minute after the sales began, gaining huge popularity.

Details on ticket reservations for the "2024 Daejeon Hana Citizen Home Opening Exhibition" can be found on the official website of Daejeon Hana Citizen and the "Hana One Q" app.
