

One advice about buying a car that was once a rental? – AL Emad

Now with that out of the way, advice on buying a car that was a rental. Majority of rental companies take very good care of their vehicles.

Here is the reason why they do:

Liability- If a vehicle is rented out that was past due for an oil change or too little tire tread depth and the rental company was knowingly renting it out, it can and will set them up for liability exposure. Think about rent car Dubai. Dubai rent a car and engine blows which cause a major injury, a good lawyer will look into the history of the vehicle and sue for negligence.

Many rental companies have lost large lawsuits because of negligence. Because of this reason, there are systems in place so that you can't rent a car in Dubai that is way past due on an oil change. Also, if a vehicle has a recall on it, most rental companies will not rent out the rental car. They don't want lawsuits that they'll be held accountable.

In the end, if you're looking at a rent a car Dubai that is 1–2 years old with 20–45k miles, more than likely it was a rental and well taken care of.

Thanks for reading!