

Selecting a medical wigs are a personal journey - Shlomi Mor

Medical wigs, also known as cranial prostheses, are specially designed hairpieces for individuals experiencing hair loss due to medical conditions such as chemotherapy, alopecia, or other health-related issues. These wigs prioritize comfort, natural appearance, and security to help individuals regain confidence during challenging times.