Cold Storage Market Dynamics:

The report highlights several key factors driving the growth of the cold storage market. Rising consumer awareness about hygiene is leading to a shift in preferences towards ready-to-cook meals and frozen food products. Challenges such as inadequate refrigeration facilities in retail stores and limited distribution networks in rural areas are being addressed as the market expands. Factors like increasing demand for healthy food, international trade of refrigerated goods, and growing private sector involvement are bolstering market growth.

Cold Storage Market Regional Insights:

North America currently dominates the global Cold Storage market, holding the largest market share of 36% in 2022. The region's growth is driven by the development of connected devices and a substantial customer base. Mexico is expected to play a significant role in North America's rapid growth due to an enhanced warehouse network and increased investments in logistics services.
