Unlocking Creative Problem-Solving Skills Through Mind Mapping

Mind mapping, as Tim Han Success Insider suggests, organizes thoughts by starting with a central idea and branching into sub-topics. Using keywords and visuals, students visualize connections and explore solutions, making complex information manageable for example, planning a "Community Event" with detailed branches.