Description:

Blue pearl GT is a dark blue granite slab with medium to large-sized, blue-grey spots and shimmering grains in a discrete pattern that adds natural beauty to any interior and exterior designs. This startling granite is popularly quarried in Norway but is also found in other regions of the world. As natural stone like granite is created at the discretion of nature, the blue pearl GT granite may show differences in colours and patterns from one slab to another. Blue pearl stone adds charm and elegance to any living space. Blue pearl GT Worktop is devoid of chemicals and highly adapted for hot and cold weather conditions. Blue pearl GT granite countertops are a sought-after natural stone for a variety of reasons such as resistance to corrosion by acidic liquids, and low water absorption capacity which makes the material resistant to stains. The polished finish gives sophisticated appeal to any given space apparently with a simple and low-cost maintenance routine.

Granite tiles usually go through different texture-defining processes like leather, flamed, brushed, polished, honed, and sandblasted finish.

Blue Pearl granite is available in polished finish with 20mm and 30mm thicknesses.

The polished finish of the granite brings out the brilliance and luster of the smooth surface, making the granite slab look unique and attractive and best complemented with white cabinets. The polished texture of the granite is remarkable for exterior application but best complimented if designed as a countertop and flooring.

Blue Pearl Granite is an ideal choice for Bar countertops, Bathroom coverings, Bathroom worktops, Benchtops, Countertops, Fireplace surrounds, Floorings, Kitchen worktops, Reception desks, Shower trays, staircases, Table tops, Vanity tops, Wall cladding, Washbasins, backsplash, fireplace, surround, flooring, outdoor kitchen countertop, etc.
