

Best Gynecologist in Pune at Benecare Hospital

IVF is a type of assisted reproductive technology where fertilization of an egg by sperm occurs outside the body in a laboratory dish. The fertilized egg (embryo) is then transferred to the uterus for implantation and pregnancy. It is often used for couples who have trouble getting pregnant through natural means.

The use of IVF can be financially, physically, and emotionally draining. Support from counselors, family, and friends can help you and your partner through the ups and downs of infertility treatment.
