

IPC 498A in Hindi: Section 498A of the Violence Against Women Act in group marriage

IPC 498A is a law designed to prevent violence against women in group marriages. This is a serious crime which is imposed on the complaint of cruelty of a woman by the guilty husband or in-laws. In this blog, we will give you information about IPC 498A in Hindi.

Section 1: What is IPC 498A?

IPC 498A is a law designed to prevent violence against women in group marriages. This section is applicable to complaints against married women against impeachment. It makes penal provision for the offense in which the guilty husband or in-laws are punished by legal action.

Section 2: Punishment under IPC 498A

Punishment is provided for the offense under IPC 498A. The punishment for this offense is imprisonment of up to three years and fine. Offenders under this section