

Waterford Buildings Response

Dominican Church - very nice

O'Connell Street - just the corner with Gladstone Street

Jacob Family Home - 3 O'Connell Street? Nothing special

Downe's Pub - 10 Thomas Street? Nothing special outside, inside looks nice

Garter Lane 1 - I can't find this

Granary Building - Nice building, but nothing unique in Irish cities

Garter Lane Theatre - Nothing special

Meaghers Pub - Assuming you mean Maher's, nothing special

Tully's Pub - Again, zero special about this

Waterford Gallery of Art - Beautiful building but included in O'Connell Street above

Port of Waterford Building - Same as above

Beech Tower - Nice but nothing unique for Ireland

TH Doolans - I love it, one of my favourite styles of architecture

J&K Walsh's - Nothing special

St Patrick's Church - this is just an average building

Barranstrand Street - typical, un-unique Irish buildings, unless you mean something more specific?

RC Cathedral - Beautiful building

Blackfriars Church - it's nice

St Olave's Church - A bang average church with a nice doorway?

Franciscan Friary of 1834 - nice tower, I guess

Viking Triangle - where the main nice buildings are

John Roberts house - nothing special

Chairman's Arch - Nothing special

Irish Wake Museum - This is just an average house?

National Silver Museum - nice but nothing special

Medieval Museum - Not my style but I can appreciate why someone would like it

Theatre Royal Foyer - Nice inside

Greyfriars - Nice

Clock Museum - Nice building but not unique

Jordan's Pub - Nice window framings I guess

Reginald's Tower - Meh from outside, cool inside

Reg Bar - If I'm looking at the right thing, um... okay?

Munster Bar - very nice but doesn't stand out

Statue of Luke Wadding - an average statue?

Viking Interpretative House - very cool

Bishops Palace - beautiful

Black Arch - I can't find this

City Hall - it's fine

33 The Mall - it's round so I guess it's different but it's just an average building

TF Meagher Statue - a normal statue

Sabai Thai house - an ordinary building

Catherine Street - I am assuming you mean Saint Catherine's Hall, which is nice

Kelly's garage - nothing special

Courthouse - a beautiful building

John's Bridge - like every other old bridge in Ireland

Watch Tower - it's a tower
