

How Do You Handle Online Customer Reviews?

Online Customer management is a daunting task as the new or a potential customer will always look for an old customer review in order to opt for the services. Get Dandy offers some advice on how to deal with consumers, such as if you have negative reviews in your account, you can create negative links or positive links to suppress reviews. Ask your happy customers to give you positive reviews and mention your services. Click on Get Dandy to learn more about such advice.
