

Third Party Manufacturing Nutraceuticals

Third-party manufacturing nutraceutical industry refers to a business arrangement where a company, often known as the brand owner or marketer, outsources the production of its nutraceutical products to a specialized manufacturing facility. Nutraceuticals are products that combine the benefits of nutrition and pharmaceuticals, often in the form of dietary supplements, functional foods, or beverages.