

Weight Loss Consultation | How Do You Lose Weight Without Exercise

Stored fat typically provides less immediate energy than carbohydrates, but serves as a fuel source for a longer period of time. That means that, to burn fat, you generally want to engage in exercise that involves less intensity, but greater time. A long walk can burn more fat than running a mile.

Read More: Weight Loss Consultation | How Do You Lose Weight Without Exercise

