What are Wedding Bands?

Wedding bands fell in the group of minimalistic jewelry, with varying levels of thickness. Earlier when couples used to shop for their wedding jewelry either they have to choose a wedding ring or a wedding band. Mostly, wedding bands were carried by men preferring an elegant look with simplistic jewelry.

But nowadays men and women both wear and carry wedding bands, also, they carry similar-looking ones as well. In the present plight, both women and men choose comfort over style, thus they are more inclined towards wedding bands over wedding rings. Now there is a trend mostly seen in women, they first place their wedding band, then the engagement ring, and then the eternity ring on top. Many find it hard to handle so they wear an eternity ring on their other hand's ring finger.

Different Types of Wedding Bands

The abundance of wedding bands available in the market is so vast. Many couples opt to create a matching set of their engagement and wedding sets. Or they create a whole new design of ring or band for your right hand. As each bride is unique, and her styles are exclusive. In this trend Men also wish to wear something distinct from the regular wedding bands.

1. Matching Bands: Bands are matched with the wedding and engagement type and made as a set.
2. Nesting Bands: One of the most beautiful band sets for weddings and engagements. A wedding band embraces the contours of an engagement ring.
3. Eternity bands: This is the jazziest and most symbolic one. It emits and sparkles the never-ending love and bond of the couple.
4. Stackable Bands: It is one of the common forms of wedding bands. It comprises a thick shank band of different kinds.
5. Standalone Bands: It is a perfect choice when you do not want to stack all the rings together.
