

Nektan launches into Asian market

Nektan plc, an international B2B and white-label gaming software and services provider, has successfully launched into the Asian market with its previously announced global platform deal for its Evolve Lite gaming system with Malta-based gaming company Tyche Digital Malta Limited.

With more than 200 Asian games and other gaming content from a number of leading suppliers, including Realistic Games, Pragmatic Play, Booongo Gaming and Pocket Games Soft, Tyche is integrating Nektan's content aggregation platform into its Asian partner sites.

Gary Shaw, Nektan CEO, said, "Our platform is now live across Europe, Asia and the U.S. We are seeing strong commercial traction with Tyche in its core Asian markets. We are pleased with the level of commercial engagement so far and look forward to delivering on the significant pipeline of opportunities that Tyche is developing and gradually ramping up revenue generation through 2018 and beyond."

Vyacheslav Grzhybovsky, Tyche CTO, commented, "We've been delighted with the speed and efficiency of Nektan's team and platform to deliver the content and technical requirements needed to move forward and further grow in Asia. We are now delivering against a number of signed contracts with the prospect of more partner deals over the course of the year."
