

Mbappe to exchange uniforms after the first half

Kylian Mbappe was controversial after exchanging jerseys with the Spaniard after the end of the first half.

France lost to Spain 1-2 in the semifinals of UEFA Euro 2024 at the Fussball Arena in Munich, Germany on the 10th.

Randal Kolo Moani, who received Mbappe's cross in the 9th minute of the first half, scored the first goal with a header. However, in the 21st minute, Lamine Yamal's fantastic left-footed shot and Dani Olmo's right-footed shot scored a come-from-behind goal to defeat France.

However, Mbappe traded jerseys with his opponents during the match. France was even losing 2-1 to Spain.

The British Daily Mail criticized Mbappe's exchange of uniforms with the Spaniard after the end of the first half, calling it a "shame."

"It was revealed that Mbappe entered the tunnel with a Spanish uniform, and fans responded that they could not understand it," he said.

Meanwhile, Didier Deschamps said, "I wouldn't say that our players didn't do their best, but they didn't play as much as we could for many reasons. Mbappe didn't do as well as he usually does. I don't want to make excuses. We did our best with what we had and tried to be as efficient as possible."
