Types of Laparoscopic Procedures Performed by Dr. Deepika Doshi

Dr. Deepika Doshi is proficient in a wide range of laparoscopic procedures, including:

Laparoscopic Ovarian Cystectomy

Cysts can cause disruptive menstrual cycles, infertility, and pain during intercourse or periods. Dr. Deepika Doshi uses a minimally invasive approach to remove these cysts through small incisions in the abdomen.

Endometriosis Treatment

Endometriosis is a painful condition characterized by heavy periods and, in many cases, infertility. Dr. Deepika Doshi, Best Laparoscopic Surgeon in Borivali, uses laparoscopic surgery to treat endometriosis by destroying endometrial cells and scar tissue with lasers, electricity, or a freezing process. This approach allows for precise treatment while minimizing damage to surrounding healthy tissues.

Ectopic Pregnancy Removal

When a pregnancy occurs outside the uterus, typically in the fallopian tube, it is considered an ectopic pregnancy. This condition can be life-threatening if left untreated. Dr. Deepika Doshi, Best Laparoscopic Surgeon in Borivali, uses laparoscopic surgery to remove the product of conception and repair or remove the damaged portion of the fallopian tube.

Laparoscopic Sacrocolpopexy

This procedure is used to repair organ prolapse, a condition in which the bladder, intestines, or uterus have fallen back down into the pelvis. Dr. Deepika Doshi uses laparoscopic techniques to reconstruct the pelvic region's natural anatomic support, ensuring normal bladder and bowel function.

Benefits of Laparoscopic Surgery
