

What is MV vs HV cables?

MV (Medium Voltage) and HV (High Voltage) cables are crucial components in electrical systems, each serving distinct purposes based on voltage requirements. Medium Voltage cables typically operate within the voltage range of 1 kV to 36 kV, bridging the gap between low voltage and high voltage applications.

<https://www.deviantart.com/zenergycableaustralia/art/What-is-MV-vs-HV-cables-1019312777>