Jan 1, · The doors groaned open to reveal a throne room. A glass chandelier shaped like a grapevine occupied most of the ceiling, spitting seeds of diamond fire onto the windows along the far side of the room. Compared to the bleakness outside those windows, the opulence felt like a slap to the face. A reminder of how much they profited from her labor. It was the fault of the man on the glass throne, who had ordered that guard's sword to sever flesh and bone. There was nothing in the darkness beyond the moment when that woman's.
