

NGO Partnerships in Urban Women's Rights Advocacy

In this collaborative study, we explore the transformative potential of partnerships between NGOs and urban women's rights collectives in driving forward the agenda for gender equality. By forging alliances with grassroots organizations, civil society groups, and government agencies, NGOs amplify their impact and reach within urban communities. Through strategic collaboration and coalition-building, NGOs mobilize resources, expertise, and networks to address pressing challenges facing urban women.

