

298.4 billion won will be offered to Hbicha + Oshimen

Paris Saint-Germain offered the Napoli duo big money.

"Paris Saint-Germain has made a bid worth 200 million euros about 298.4 billion won for Napoli duo Hvitso Kvaratskhelia and Victor Osimhen," British media "Goldcom" reported on the 12th.

In February, there were reports that Mbappe would join Real Madrid after he announced his intention to leave PSG with his contract expiring in June. Four months later, Mbappe was now confirmed to move to Real, and Mbappe signed a five-year contract with Real.

Earlier this year, French media Le Parisien said Naples' Hvitso Kvaratskhelia was PSG's top target to replace Mbappe, and negotiations between the two sides are reportedly going smoothly.

There have been conversations between the parties involved and in fact, Kvaratskhelia's agent Mamuka Jugeli recently confirmed that PSG had sent an offer to recruit players.

Alfredo Pedulla, an Italian journalist, said, "The Saudi club's interest is not true, but PSG's interest and suggestion are there. It all depends on the decision of Napoli and the Napoli president." Hvitso is currently known to be open to a move to Paris, and media outlets have assessed that talks between the player's agent and PSG are particularly positive.

However, according to Italian media Corriere dello Sport, PSG made a huge bid to buy both Hvitso and Osimhen, but Hvitso was not listed for sale. Antonio Conte, Napoli's new manager, insists that Hvitso remain with the club, but Osimhen can move if a reasonable bid is offered. Osimhen currently has a 120 million euro buyout, and Napoli can send Osimhen at a lower price. 토토사이트

Hbicha's agent also hinted that despite PSG's interest, Hbicha may remain with Napoli and extend his contract. Paris seem unlikely to persuade Hbicha to leave Napoli and should now be more aggressive in their pursuit of Osimhen.

"Hbicha without the Champions League? Then he wants to win the Serie A championship. Everything from now on is up to Napoli's president. If he wants to sell Hbicha, he will, and if he wants to renew his contract, he will renew his contract," Mamuka Jugeli, Hbicha's agent, told Corriere dello Sport.

PSG may have to keep their eyes on Osimhen. Meanwhile, Napoli hope that Hvitso will leave his future to them instead of replacing Kylian Mbappe, a new Real Madrid recruit, for Paris.
