

Sean "Diddy" Combs and Jay-Z Confront Sexual Assault Allegations

Alleged to have drugged and raped a 13-year-old girl at a 2000 after-party following the MTV Video Music Awards (VMAs) in New York, Rappers Jay-Z and Sean "Diddy" Combs are enmeshed in a well-publicized lawsuit. Identified as "Jane Doe," the complainant changed her October lawsuit to include Jay-Z (Shawn Carter) as a co-defendant along with Combs. Both angrily refute the claims, writing them off as bogus extortion attempts.

Details of Allegations

The case brought under the New York Victims of Gender-Motivated Violence Protection Act claims that the plaintiff—then 13—was driven to an exclusive party following interactions with limousine drivers outside the VMAs location. The lawsuit states she was handed a drink that caused vertigo and thereafter escorted to a bedroom where the claimed attack took place.....Read More
