

Macau will have a casino and will be open to the public.

The hotel is located on the border of Macau's Kotai and Coloan districts and has experienced some delays in the construction process. 13 Holdings filed an interim report in December, and according to the report, the property's development was on track and expected to open in the first quarter. Later in March, the company announced that the opening date of the property would be announced later this year.

According to Govtsen, the initiative's promoter, The 13 Holding announced annual results equivalent to additional delays regarding the opening of the company's casino project in Macau. In the results, the company showed evidence that current liabilities exceeded assets by HK$309.9 million ($38.5 million), and the holding also entered into a total capital commitment of HK$369 million not provided in the consolidated results. In an earlier statement, 13 Holdings said the company would have to pay an average of more than US$7 million to build a single room and more than US$1.4 billion to complete the construction of all rooms in the property. The project description in 13 states that it will be a villa hotel with a total of 200 accommodations. Union Gaming also added that annual results indicate a lack of funding for the project, and that construction has yet to be resolved to continue.

The group also added that the group's liquidity needs to improve and that directors are negotiating for this. According to them, they will have sufficient working capital to finance operations and continue to boost the project. The company also added that some of the potential improvements that could be made in this situation are finding new sources of funding in the form of debt or equity. The amount of funding required at the moment is not disclosed by the landlord, but Union Gaming suggests it could be very expensive for debt.
