

HRM Definition

HRM is the efficient management of people in an organization or a company such that they can contribute to the business gain of a company/organization. HRM is concerned with all issues relating to hiring, compensation, performance management, organizational development, and training the employees. Click the link for more information:

<https://www.hrhelpboard.com/human-resource/human-resource-management.html>