

What is the service of summons in South Africa?

In South Africa, the service of summons refers to the formal procedure by which a legal document, typically a Service of Summons, is delivered to a defendant to notify them of legal action being taken against them. This process is crucial in ensuring that the defendant is aware of the claim and has the opportunity to respond.