

What Types of Seals Are Used in Hydraulic Cylinders?

The hydraulic and pneumatic seals are molded in accordance with the working temperature, the hydraulic cylinders speed, the cylinder operating pressure, the working application, and the medium. Typically, they are non-metallic, very soft rings mounted in a housing or arranged into a mixture of rings that provide a sealing unit.

Resource URL:- <https://hydrauliccylindersmanufacturerindia.wordpress.com/2021/02/05/what-types-of-seals-are-used-in-hydraulic-cylinders/>

