

Smart Kitchen Design: Insights from Chef's Kitchens, Built by BuildLabs

In recent years, the demand for spacious, functional kitchens has surged, especially among clients in high-end areas like the Hamptons. Homeowners are not just looking for a place to cook; they want kitchens that can accommodate private chefs, and caterers, and serve as the perfect backdrop for entertaining.

Here, we ask BuildLabs cofounder Punit Chugh to share valuable insights on creating a chef-inspired kitchen that blends functionality with style. The type of kitchen that can accommodate professional cooks and the homeowner's family on any given day. As the founder of the Hamptons-based custom homebuilding company, and an architect and builder with more than 40 years of experience, Chugh has witnessed firsthand the shift from traditional to chef-grade kitchens. He's also collaborated with some of the best interior designers and kitchen manufacturing specialists, including Curious Yellow and Häcker Kitchens.
