Sophos XGS 136 Firewall Security Appliance

The smarter way to simple, secure Wi-Fi

The Sophos XGS 136 Firewall Security Appliance is a powerful solution for small to mid-sized businesses seeking advanced network protection, streamlined management, and high-speed performance. This post provides a detailed overview, covering everything from specifications and features to pricing and documentation. With the comprehensive capabilities of the XGS 136, organisations can secure their networks with robust firewall protection and enhanced threat management.

The Sophos XGS 136 and its variants, including the XGS 136W (with wireless capabilities), are designed to address the growing security needs of modern businesses. Equipped with Sophos Xstream protection, the XGS 136 offers advanced features to handle today's evolving cyber threats. This appliance is part of the Sophos XGS Series, recognized for their ability to provide deep packet inspection, SSL inspection, and enhanced web filtering.